PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Avendi – UX/UI Designer

May 2016–Present • Washington, D.C.

I am part of a small, three person studio, but we handle large clients and projects. My responsibilities include, UX walkthroughs, wireframing, UI development and design, front end web development, production work, and more. I frequently talk through projects with clients and work on tight deadlines. I have helped design three public facing websites, and numerous intranet sites.

The Design Channel – Interactive and Print Designer

March 2014–May 2016 • Chevy Chase, Maryland

The position required juggling several projects, including logo, web design, e-newsletters (design and coding), brochure, web development (Wordpress), production work, and more. I frequently talk through projects with clients and work on tight deadlines. I have successfully launched more than five websites using a three person team during my time at The Design Channel.

Consero Group – Graphic Designer

October 2012–March 2014 • Bethesda, Maryland

One of two designers on staff. My responsibilities included generating collateral (event books, name badges, event guides, signage, etc.), update the website, create survey reports for PR distribution, and support the company in any manner necessary.

Project Design Company – Freelance Designer

May–September 2011, August–October 2012 • Washington, D.C.

My responsibilities included juggling several projects, including a logo, web design, brochure, web development, and more.

D.C. United – Graphic Designer

September 2011–August 2012 • Washington, D.C.

I was sole graphic designer at D.C. United. My responsibilities included generating concepts, print collateral, print ads, web ads, t-shirts, and all other graphic needs under very tight deadlines. I supported the team in any manner possible beyond just graphic needs, including photography, fan support, and promotion.
